This copy may be sent to you or to another entity. This applies only to personal data provided to us.

By using our website or by consenting to the processing of data available on our webpage you agree to the rules of this Privacy Policy.

1. Data collection

During the user's visit to the website www.krystian.com.pl our servers automatically save the so-called system logs – anonymous information such as the time of the visit, the ip address, the url address, the browser, etc.

The data we collect in our logs are used only for the purposes of website administration, subject to sections 5, 6 and 7. No identification date we obtain is passed on to third parties for any purpose.

Like most websites, we store HTTP queries directed to our server. The browsed resources are identified via URL addresses. The exact list of information stored in web server log files is as follows:

- public IP address of the computer from which the request was made (it may be directly the user's computer),
- name of the client station - identification performed by the http protocol, if possible,
- user name given in the authorisation process,
- time of the arrival of the request,- first line of the http request,
- http reply code,
- number of bytes sent by the server,
- information on the user's browser,
- information about errors that occurred during the execution of an http transaction - URL address of a site previously visited by the user (referrer link), if the website has been accessed via a link,

The above data is not linked to specific natural persons visiting our service, subject to sections 5, 6 and 7. In order to ensure the highest quality of the website, we occasionally analyse log files in order to determine which pages are visited most often, which web browsers are used, whether the structure of the page contains any errors, etc.

2. Use of data

Logs collected by the website are stored for an indefinite period of time as auxiliary material used for administering the website (e.g. by generating statistics that do not contain any features identifying the website users, adjusting the content of the website www.krystian.com.pl to the user's preferences and optimising the use of the website as well as maintaining the session).

3. Cookies mechanism in the website
Cookie files are IT data, in particular text files, stored in the website User’s end device and intended for use on the website's pages. Cookies usually contain the name of the website they are from, time of their storage on an end device and a unique number.

The cookies mechanism is not used to obtain any information about the users of the website or to track their activities on the Internet. Cookies used on the website do not store any personal data or other information collected from users. The website may use following cookie files:

   a) files which make it possible to use services available on the website, for example authentication cookies used for services which require authentication on the website;
   b) files which ensure safety for example by detecting website authentication frauds;
   c) files which make it possible to collect information on the way the website’s pages are used;
   d) files which make it possible to customize user interface and "remember" settings selected by the user, for example the selected language or the user's region, font size and the appearance of the webpage, etc.;
   e) files thanks to which users may be provided with advertising content better tailored to their interests.

4. Links to other websites

The website of PW Krystian Sp. z o.o. may contain links to other websites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of these websites. If you go to a different website, you should review its privacy policy.

An exception to the above rules is the registration of data in the form of the forename, surname, email addresses of persons or entities using the provided service for contacting us via the contact form and persons who consented to the processing of personal data in an agreement concluded with us (the rules and scope of processing personal data in such a case shall be specified in detail in the agreement).

With regard to entities and persons who have used the service for contacting us via the contact form, the name and e-mail address needed to send a reply will be recorded. This data shall be used for contact purposes.

In the case of data collected by contact forms, the user has the right to request deletion or modification of this data by sending information concerning the scope in which such data should be modified or removed to rodo@krystian.com.pl. Questions about the applicable Policy may be sent to the same address.
